"It's an OLDSMOBILE"

There's this about it when you drive a new Oldsmobile—you have a car at once so smart, so different, and so outstanding that it is instantly recognized . . . and acclaimed. Indeed, it is doubtful whether any car has ever stood so definitely ahead of current design as these handsome style leaders—the new Oldsmobile "6" and "8". Wherever they go, they are the centers of attraction—unquestionably the most admired cars of the year. . . . And, among those who know them, they are admired no less for their performance than for their style leadership. Fast, smooth, comfortable—and almost unbelievably easy to handle—they are as delightful to drive as any car you could possibly imagine. . . . Come in today for a demonstration. Oldsmobile prices are the lowest in ten years.

Father DARKLEAF'S Column
BY C.H.R.

I am a fisherman of words, not of men or fish. Saturday I hied me away to the waters of the Rappahannock to test the merits of their repute. After 3 hours of alleged fishing I hauled in hook and sinker—and had the same bait I started out with! Nary a nibble, sez I. That's my fisherman's yarn.

• • •

Mother Brightleaf did better. Yes sir, she's quite a fisherman. So there really were fish for breakfast.

• • •

Things must be prosperous in Emporia, last week an Emporia bank came out with a half-page advertisement announcing that it had plenty of cash money to lend out!

• • •

Bowlieve it or not, a bank is most solid when it is liquid.

• • •

The first day of summer—and 95 in the shade. But where's the shade? (on the window, smarty.) Why does a day like yesterday have to be the longest day in the year? I'd make "pay-day" the longest.

• • •

Summer! Used to be a time of snakes, horse-flies and chiggers.

• • •

Well do I remember driving a horse and buggy and swatting horse-flies on Nellie's back with a rein! That's a lost art for you. If you can swat 4 out of 5 you're good. Can keep score by the red splotches on the horse's back.

• • •

And chiggers! I've spent more sleepless nights in summery scratching chiggers than bemoaning the heat (page 8 notwithstanding.)

• • •

Now summer is a time of blow-outs, frozen salad and static.

• • •

We'd chunk piles of snow into a deep hole in the ground and cover it with straw (ice house year Uncle Henry called it), and then for the Fourth of July home-made ice cream we'd fish it out.

• • •

Now they freeze up apricots plums and peaches in an electrical contrivance and serve "frozen salad" in between kidnappings.

• • •

Ogling decadently up the off-side of Main St. Chooseday Father Darklea's baroque optics rested on the novel-to-Appomattox sight of a morsel of pulchritude clad in pajammers. Now such an anatine effatus must give L. M. Wilkes and Father Darkleaf pause, to-wit and therefore we huddle in conference and after a mighty inward struggle hoisted the topsail halyards of deduction. Our grandmothers wore dresses, we recalled.

54 ILLUMINATED VIOLINS MAKE AMAZING DISPLAY

One of the unique scenes in the Warner Bros. picture, "Gold Diggers of 1933," which opens at the Trenton Theatre Midnight, Sunday, June 25, for a full week, is the one song and dance numbers with 54 illuminated violins. Girls of the chorus play on theses instruments in a gigantic ensemble, the lights being arranged to take the shape of the fiddle and bow so that the music can be heard and the instruments seen playing the air after the figures of the players are blacked out, giving a startling effect. "Gold Diggers" is a mammoth musical and dramatic spectacle based on Avery Hopwood's play and directed by Mervyn LeRoy. There is a noted all star cast which includes Warren William, Joan Blondell, Aline MacMahon, Ruby Keeler, Guy Kibbee, Dick Powell, Ned Sparks and Ginger Rogers.

State Board Opposes Local Preferences

In a special communication to county school superintendents and chairmen of school boards, state superintendent of public education, Sidney B. Hall, has openly condemned the practice in some sections of only appointing school teachers who reside within the home county.

In recent years this practice has progressed until many Virginia counties will not appoint teachers unless they live in that county. The letter from Mr. Hall, addressed to J. A. Burke, here, says, in part:

"Whereas, the State of Virginia through the State Board of Education makes available to the local school divisions funds for the payment of salaries of teachers, and

Whereas, the State of Virginia provides under the management of the State Board of Education normal colleges for the training of teachers, and

Whereas, the State Board of Education has learned with regret that local school boards in the employment of teachers are too often giving preference to local applicants, chiefly because of their residence in their divisions, and

Whereas, many of the local teachers employed hold the lower grades of licenses, and

Whereas, the number of well prepared teachers out of employment is increasing very rapidly, and

Whereas, the presence in a school system of a large number of local teachers tend to promote inbreeding and with it the restriction of development along broad and progressive lines,

Therefore, Be It Resolved that the State Board of Education expresses the opinion that in the employment of teachers the chief consideration should be the securing of the best prepared teacher, regardless of residence, that the funds available will procure, and strongly urges upon division superintendents that in considering applications for teaching positions, they take advantage of the present large supply of well prepared teachers."

Sidney B. Hall,
Supt. of Pub. Ins.

Crops Are In Need of Good Rainfall Now

Clover and Hay Crops Suffer Most From Lack Of Rain

County agent R. B. Hudgins, yesterday declared that farm crops in this section were in great need of rain, but that a dry spell would do less harm now than it would in July or August.

"Hay and clover crops are suffering from lack of rain and tobacco is felling a bit in drough and hot weather some," he said. However, the crops are in average condition and with ample rain in July and August good yields may be expected.

To Have Baseball Game Here Saturday

Appomattox won its second game here Saturday by defeating the Gladstone team, 9 to 8. The game was marred by an accident or so, which slowed it up considerably.

However, Lewis McDearmon says he plans to have a good fast game here Saturday afternoon, when his local boys meet the strong team from Dillwyn. Appomattox has a very good team, but they need your support. There is always a baseball game at Appomattox every Saturday afternoon. A new diamond has been made on the local high school grounds, which assures the spectators always of a good cool, shady place from which to watch the game.

Several games with good strong teams have been scheduled. There is no admission charges. If you wish to contribute, you may do so when the hat is passed.
